

A series of horizontal lines for writing, organized into five columns by vertical lines. The columns are defined by the vertical lines extending from the colored segments in the header bar. The first column is yellow, the second is red, the third is green, the fourth is light blue, and the fifth is dark blue. Each column contains approximately 20 horizontal lines.

